Help ALL raise matching funds

It's Give ALOHA time at Foodland stores. Last year's matching fundraiser sponsored by Foodland helped ALL raise more than $2,000. This year Foodland will offer a donation period between September 1 - 30 and contribute $200,000 to match customers' donations. Between September 1 and 30, we encourage our members to make donations of up to $249 (per person) to the Academy for Lifelong Learning. Dig out your Maika'i card and please remember the Academy for Lifelong Learning (ALL's donation code is 77147) when shopping during the month of September. We appreciate your support of lifelong learning!

Welcome to Krauss Hall

We're nearing the finish line on our race to renovate Krauss Hall for the Academy for Lifelong Learning's Fall Term. As this brochure goes to press, we look forward to moving into Krauss Hall rooms 112 and 113 by mid-September. Our first class of the term begins Tuesday, September 17.

Krauss Hall is a fitting and elegant setting for the Academy. It's on the Hawai'i Register of Historic Sites as a notable representative of Hawaiian architecture from the 1930s. Built in 1931, it is the oldest wood frame building on the UH Manoa campus. The ironwork gates surrounding the courtyard are embellished with the letters "PRI" for the Pineapple Research Institute. The Institute's former six acres of labs housed the research studies responsible for the domestication of pineapple for commercial production in Hawaii. In 1969, the University received PRI as a gift and named it in honor of Prof. Frederick Krauss, Director of the Agricultural Extension Service. The complex today houses many university programs including the Outreach College and the John Young Museum of Art (see page 12 for more details on ALL's special tour of this museum-next-door). We hope that you'll join us this term and enjoy our new space.

One more thing......Please don't forget the Give Aloha fundraiser during the month of September (see back inside page). ALL needs your help now more than ever. Thanks for your support.

(Our thanks to L.B. Nerio, curator of the John Young Museum, and the staff of UHM Outreach College for historical data on Krauss Hall.)

♦ Introduction to the Geology of Hawai’i
Instructor: Dr. Greg Moore, UHM Professor of Geology and Geophysics
Dates: Mondays, September 23, 30, and October 7
Time: 10 am to 11 am
Location: Kuykendall 208 (Class limited to 25.)

Description: If you’re curious about the volcanic rocks we call home and would like to know more about the latest research in Geology and Geophysics, this overview course will reveal much about what’s going on just beneath our feet.

In three lively multimedia presentations, Dr. Greg Moore will explain geology of Hawai’i and geologic processes including the origin of the Hawaiian islands, life stages of Hawai’i’s volcanoes, and the hazards associated with volcanic eruptions. In addition, the class will explore plate tectonics and continental drift. As a theory, continental drift was much debated for decades and largely dismissed as being preposterous and improbable. However, beginning in the 1950s, a wealth of new evidence emerged to revive the debate. In particular, four major scientific developments spurred the formulation of the plate-tectonics theory: (1) demonstration of the ruggedness and youth of the ocean floor; (2) confirmation of repeated reversals of the Earth’s magnetic field in the geologic past; (3) emergence of the seafloor-spreading hypothesis and associated recycling of oceanic crust; and (4) precise documentation that the world’s earthquake and volcanic activity is concentrated along oceanic trenches and submarine mountain ranges. (Please note that these talks will be in Kuykendall’s oft-chilly media room 308. Bring along a sweater.)
Manoa Forum Series: Leaders & Followers
Instructor: Vernon Char, Attorney at Law
Dates: Thursdays, October 3, 10, 17, 24
Time: 10 am - Noon
Location: Krauss 112
Description:
There is a heightened demand for leaders to emerge. Newspapers and the media almost weekly make calls for new leadership. This is found in politics (in Hawai'i's gubernatorial race); in the school systems (both at the Director of Public Education and also Principals levels); and the church (as evidenced in the recent Catholic Church scandal). New and established businesses, as well as community organizations, seek leaders. Yet this is a time when there are more leadership conferences, leadership training workshops, leadership development beginning in the grade school levels, at the University of Hawai'i, and for professional associations.

What is "leadership"? It's a meaningless word overused, vague, and trivialized. Each of us needs to think deeply about defining leadership, and then we need to act upon it by being a leader or trusting our leaders and being a good follower. What is the reciprocal relationship that leaders have with followers and the motivation for shared goals?

To explore these themes, we will examine the leadership of Harry Truman, Theodore Roosevelt, and several others.

Organ Recital by Donald Matsumori: An Introduction to the Organ and its Literature
Instructor: Donald Matsumori, Ph.D.
Date: Monday, November 25
Time: 10 a.m. to Noon
Location: 1350 Hunakai St., Wesley United Methodist Church (next to First Hawaiian Bank on mauka side of Kahala Mall. Free parking available. Bus #1 to Kahala*)
Description: We'll begin this seminar and recital with a brief historical review of the organ as a musical instrument. From their earliest and modest beginnings around 250 B.C., organs have evolved into large instruments consisting of several keyboards and many stops with corresponding ranks of pipes. Originally secular instruments, organs were gradually incorporated into use in the Western church. We will look at the console of an organ and examine the conveniences available on a modern instrument. We will also note the console specifications established by the American Guild of Organists, and look at some activities of the Guild.

The organ recital itself will highlight periods and styles of music from various countries, including Italy, Spain, France, England, and Germany. We will listen to selections by such composers as Girolamo Frescobaldi (1583-1643), Antonio de Cabezon (1510-1566), John Stanley (1713-1786), Johann Sebastian Bach (1685-1750), and Johannes Brahms (1833-1897), among others. What were the organs like that were available to these composers? Should modern organists strive to replicate the type of sounds these composers experienced, or should they take liberties with the expanded capabilities of present-day instruments?

Aside from these considerations, we will examine common terms used in titles of organ compositions. What is a prelude and fugue, a canzona, a toccata, or ricercare(e) and how should one listen to these? We'll also look at the MIDI (Musical Instrument Digital Interface) system available on modern organs and listen to several pieces highlighting digital interface.

* If taking Bus #1 to recital, be sure to avoid the bus that loops only to Koko Head in Kaimuki. It turns off at Koko Head Ave. and does not extend service to Kahala Mall.
Astronomy: Haleakala & Mauna Kea: "Starways" to the Universe
Instructor: Rolf Peter Kudritzki, PhD, Director, Institute for Astronomy, UH Manoa
Dates: Friday, November 15
Time: 1 pm - 3 pm
Location: Institute for Astronomy, C-214 auditorium, 2680 Woodlawn Drive (adjacent to Manoa Shopping Center. Free on-site parking or take the free shuttle from Varney Circle to the Institute. Shuttles leave UHM every 25 minutes.)
Description: Hawaii is Earth's connecting point to the rest of the Universe. The summit of Mauna Kea on the Island of Hawaii hosts the world's largest astronomical observatory, with telescopes operated by astronomers from eleven countries. The combined light-gathering power of the telescopes on Mauna Kea is fifty times greater than that of the Hubble Space Telescope. Join this lecture by IfA Director Rolf Kudritzki and find out why Hawaii is such a unique site for astronomical research and where the latest UH research findings may lead us.

Lunch & Tour at The Contemporary Museum
Date: Friday, December 6
Time: Meet at 11:45 at main entrance to The Contemporary Museum in Makiki Heights
Location: 2411 Makiki Heights Drive
Description: Join this tour of VOICE: A Decade of Work by New York artist Lesley Dill. Dill fashions intricate paper sculptures to investigate the roles of language and clothing in revealing and disguising the human soul. This exhibition uses the word images of poetry to evoke multiple meanings. Following the tour, we'll gather for lunch at 1:15 pm in the Museum Cafe.

Hawaiian Sovereignty: A Panel Discussion
Dates: Wednesdays (Sept. 25, Oct. 2, 9, 16, 23)
Time: 1 pm - 3 pm
Location: Campus Center 306/309
Description: Who has the power to make decisions in Hawaii? These five panel discussions featuring a variety of speakers will provide an overview for discussion of Hawaii's political and cultural history since 1778. Topics to be discussed include Captain Cook, Kamehameha the Conqueror, Missionaries, Kauikeaouli Kahamehameha III, Bayonet Constitution, Overthrow, Grover Cleveland, Wilcox counterrevolution, Republic, Annexation, and Statehood. Second session will examine indigeneity. Third session will address policies governing admittance and participation in institutions such as OHA, DHHL, Kamehameha Schools, Papa Ola Lokahi, etc. Fourth session will examine legal issues from the overthrow through annexation of ceded lands, statehood to the present. Final session will explore Sovereignty, Perfect Title, The Hague arbitration, tax evasion, Makua demilitarization, Mauna Kea and the status of the Akaka bill.

Tai Chi for Beginners
Instructor: Dieter Runge, Instructor of Tai Chi
Dates: Tues. and Thurs. (Sept. 17 - Oct. 24)
Time: 7:30 am - 8:30 am
Location: Hemenway 201
Description: Every morning millions of people practice Tai Chi in China and it is becoming more popular worldwide. This healing and martial art is based on the complementary principles of Yin and Yang and the concept of Chi as the life-force energy. This class will concentrate on the health benefits like balance, relaxation, and finding one's center. Wear comfortable clothes with thin-soled shoes or go barefoot. Although Tai Chi is not a strenuous activity, participants will be asked to review and complete a medical liability waiver before starting class.
The Illuminated Life®

Instructor: Abe Arkoff, Prof. Emeritus, Psych.

Dates: Tuesdays, September 17 - December 17

Time: 1:00-3:00 p.m.

Location: Krauss Hall 112

Maximum Enrollment: 20

Description: The way we live our lives affects our health and well-being. A "life check" can be as important as a physical checkup. In this workshop we will look candidly at our lives to affirm what's good and work on what could be better.

We will pose 14 "life questions" — one each session — and pursue answers through novel exercises. We will become "caring presences" and "caring disclosers" and provide each other with support as we share our work and lives with each other. To check on our progress, we will complete a measure of well-being before the workshop begins and after it ends.

We will prepare in advance of each meeting by reading a brief chapter in the workbook, The Illuminated Life: Your Third Age Lifebook, if we are 55 or older or, if younger, The Illuminated Life: Your Lifebook. Read Chapter 1 and complete Exploration 1 before the first meeting. Bring the exploration and completed measure of well-being (it will be mailed to you) to the first meeting. The workbook is available from Professional Image, 2633 S. King, Ph. 973-6599 (validated parking on the makai-Diamond Head corner of King and University). Price of book: $15.07 (inc. tax). Call ahead to have a copy prepared for you.

An Architect's View of Honolulu:
A Walking Tour of Downtown

Guide: Architects from AIA - Honolulu

Dates: Saturday, October 12 (More info will be provided upon registration.)

Time: 10 am to noon

Maximum Enrollment for Tour: 24

Special tour fee: $15 per person includes two-hour tour and a souvenir book of historic sites.

Description: Explore the historic and contemporary architecture that makes Honolulu unique. We'll see the graceful arched stairway at Ali'iolani Building, the outdoor courtyard and pool of the YWCA building designed by Julia Morgan (architect for Hearst's San Simeon in California) and everything in between. This two-hour tour will begin in Chinatown on Nu'uanu Avenue and meander toward the main business district taking in the historical structures of the Capitol district. Wear comfortable walking shoes, and plenty of sun protection. Drinking water will be provided. Souvenir books will be distributed to registered participants. Please note that this event requires an additional tour fee of $15. Please add this tour fee to the regular ALL membership fee if you wish to participate. More details will be provided upon registration.
Special Events for Members

♦ Tour the John Young Museum
Date: Friday, September 27
Time: Meet at Museum entrance at 1 pm
Location: Krauss Hall 2, UH Manoa
Description: Join Curator L. Benji Nerio in this special tour of the John Young Museum in Krauss Hall. Opened in 1999, this compact museum represents the University's special interests in Asia and the Pacific region and is largely the result of contributions by the late artist John Young. On exhibit are artifacts from China, Korea, Japan, Southeast Asia, India, Sri Lanka, the Pacific Islands, and Africa. In addition to the art exhibits, the museum features a reading room with art books furnished by John Young and others, and a secluded garden courtyard with a reflecting pool and rock waterfall.

♦ Water Pollution in Hawai'i: What Can We Do?
Presenter: Dr. Carl Evensen, Extension Spec., UHM Coll. of Trop. Agriculture and Human Resources
Date: Friday, October 18
Time: Noon - 1 pm, Brown Bag lunch session
Location: Krauss 112
Description: Pollution is a serious problem in many of Hawai'i's watersheds and coastal waters. This pollution comes from a wide variety of sources, both agricultural and urban. Dr. Carl Evensen will describe the current situation and explore how the Hawaii Pollution Prevention Information Program is being used to educate the public and safeguard drinking water and other water resources.

♦ Religion, Nationalism & The Kashmir Conundrum
Instructor: Arun Swamy, Ph.D., Author, Political Analyst, Research Fellow, East-West Center
Dates: Friday, October 11
Times: 11 am - Noon
Location: Krauss 112
Description: The standoff between India and Pakistan over Kashmir has reached new levels of hostility and raised the possibility of war between the nuclear-armed rivals. Dr. Arun Swamy, author of Is India Going the Way of 1930s Germany? and other political treatises, will explore the instability of the region and discuss how the U.S.-led terrorism coalition is caught in a risky political crossfire in Kashmir. Looking ahead, Dr. Swamy says that it remains to be seen whether Pakistan will take verifiable steps to prevent further use of its territory for militant activities against India or whether India will be convinced to initiate a process that engages Kashmiri separatists.

♦ Two Faces of Peru
Instructor: Gaby Alvarez Hanna, Spanish language/culture instructor, UHM
Dates: Thursdays, October 3, 10, 17, 24, 31
Times: 1 pm - 3 pm
Location: Krauss 113-B Library/Seminar Room
Description: Peru offers diversity: history, archaeology, friendly people and music. This course will explore Peru's Spanish heritage and its pivotal role in the ancient Inca Empire. Join this armchair tour of Peru and discover the myths and realities of its rich history and cultures.
A Writing Circle
Facilitator: Yi-chuan Ching, M.D.
Dates: Group meets weekly on alternate Wednesdays, Sept. 18, Oct. 2, 16, 30, Nov. 13, 27, Dec. 4
Time: 9:00 am - 11:00 am
Location: Krauss 113-B, Library/Seminar room
Description: Those with a yen to write are invited to participate in this circle. We will take turns informally reading our own work for reaction and comment. All will have a chance to submit work on a regular basis. Circle is limited to 6. Previous participants will be given preference. Serious writers may contact Dr. Yi-chuan Ching at yching@pol.net for more information.

War and Peace
Instructor: Joe Morgan, PhD, UHM Geography
Dates: Tuesdays, Oct. 1, 8, 15, (no class Oct. 22) 29.
Time: 10 a.m. - Noon
Place: Krauss Hall 112
Description: The world is both a peaceful place and a war-like place; it all depends on your perspective. Through a series of discussions, this course will examine why nations go to war and what motivates leaders to engage in such devastation. What happens when the fighting stops? How do nations forge effective peace agreements? We will explore current and historical events with the goal of understanding the role wars have played throughout history and the effect they have had on world political climate.

Shakespeare
Instructor: David Johnson, Atty & Adj. Prof., Wm. S. Richardson School of Law, UHM
Dates: Wednesdays, October 23, 30, Nov. 6, 13, 20, (Note: no class on Nov. 27), Dec. 4 and Dec. 11.
Time: 2 pm - 4 pm
Location: Krauss 112
Description: We will be reading and discussing the language contained in five plays of William Shakespeare, the world's finest playwright and poet. Seven sessions include an overview of Shakespeare's language; Twelfth Night; King John; A Winter's Tale; The Merry Wives of Windsor; Romeo & Juliet; and Conclusions.

Knowledge Navigation
